Symington Tops Missouri Ticket

ST. LOUIS (AP)—President Johnson won Missouri's 12 electoral votes and all top state Democratic candidates swept into office with him today on a great tide of votes.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., topped the ticket, winning a third term over Republican Jean Paul Bradshaw of Springfield by more than a two to one margin.

State Senate Grip Held By Democrats

23 Democrats, 11 Republicans Compose Senate

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Democrats remained firmly in control of Missouri's state Senate today with all races in the general election running according to previous political form.

Democrats retained 14 seats and Republicans kept three in the voting in the state's odd-numbered senatorial districts. Terms of senators in the even-numbered districts extend through 1966.

As a result of the voting the composition of the state Senate will remain unchanged with 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans.

However, there will be two new faces in the Senate.

Democrat Paul Berra took over the seat of the late William E. Hilsman, also a Democrat, in St. Louis city's 3rd District. Berra has been a member of the state House of Representatives.

Republican A. Clifford Jones was elected in St. Louis County's 7th District. Jones replaced Republican William H. Macon, whom he defeated in last August's primary. A LaDue attorney, Jones is a former state representative and served as minority floor leader in 1957-58.

Incumbents re-elected included the two veteran Democrats of the state Senate: 89-year-old Michael Kinney of St. Louis and 76-year-old Edgar J. Keating of Kansas City. Kinney had no Republican opposition and Keating swamped a Republican opponent.

Albert M. Spradling of Cape Girardeau, Democratic president pro tem of the Senate in the last two sessions of the General Assembly, won easy reelection. The Republican minority floor leader, Noel Cox of Ozark, was unopposed for reelection.

Following are results of state senate races:

1st District (St. Louis City), 112 precincts complete: Robert Pentland, Democrat incumbent, 32,773; Milton F. Napier, Republican, 21,706.

3rd District (St. Louis city), 102 precincts complete, Paul Berra, Democrat, 30,214; Law-

Johnson's vote over Goldwater was somewhat smaller.

Third in line was Secy. of State Warren E. Hearnese of Charleston, who built a commanding lead from the start over Republican Ethan Shepley, retired Washington University chancellor, and added to it as the counting progressed.

All other state Democratic candidates were carried along in the sweep.

With 3,865 of the state's 4,414 precincts tallied, Johnson had 942,547, Goldwater 497,448.

At the same point, Symington had 966,440, Bradshaw 453,873.

In the governorship race it was Hearnese 894,941, Shepley 532,506.

Hearnese issued his victory statement about 9 p.m. (CST) pledging to recruit the finest brains in the state to carry on a forward-looking program. Shepley conceded a short time later and sent a congratulatory telegram to the winner.

Shepley, now 68, said he would not run again but promised to keep active in rebuilding a strong Republican party. He said a start was made on that in the 1964 campaign.

It seemed likely the vote total would fall well short of the 1,990,000 Hearnese had predicted. Four years ago 1,934,000 voted in the presidential race, won by the late John F. Kennedy by less than 10,000 votes.

Democratic Gov. John M. Dalton rolled up a 303,000 majority in winning the governorship four years ago.

In the congressional races most of the incumbents appeared safe but in some of the outstate districts the number of precincts reporting was too scanty to make the results certain.

The Democratic surge even threatened Republican Rep. Durward G. Hall in the normally Republican 7th District of southwestern Missouri.

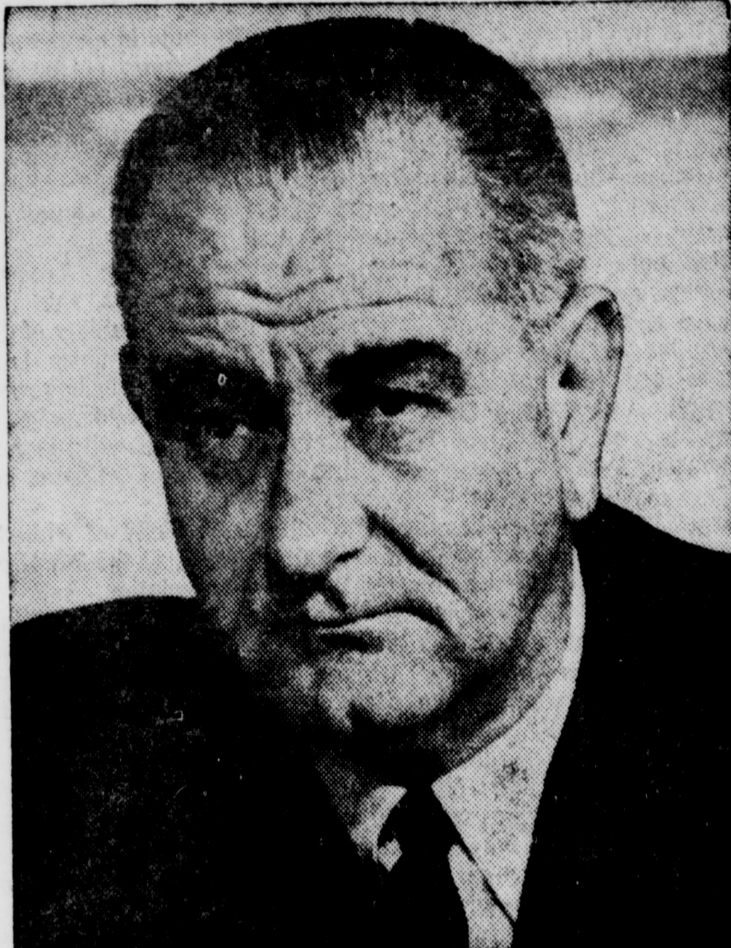

NBC's electronic vote analysis indicated sharp gains in many urban areas populated with blue collar workers helped swell the Democratic margin in Missouri.

Key precincts showed Johnson polling 81 per cent of the vote in these areas, a 20 per cent gain over Kennedy four years ago.

Symington was getting 77 per cent, or better than in his 1948 race. Hearnese, with 80 per cent, was 20 per cent better than Dalton's showing four years ago.

National Unity Call by Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson's smashing landslide in the election sent his popularity margin soaring toward a record 15 million votes today. In triumph, he called for a united America facing the world as one.

In late morning, the one state still in doubt was Arizona, home of Republican Barry Goldwater who was deluged in the coast-to-coast tide of votes returning Johnson to the White House. Goldwater was leading in Arizona.

Johnson had won 44 states and the District of Columbia for a total of 486 electoral votes. He needed 270 to win. Goldwater had 5 states—Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina—for a total of 47.

There had been nothing like this since 1936 when Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt carried all the states except Maine and Vermont.

In the popular vote Johnson was running ahead of Roosevelt. With about 93 per cent of the vote tabulated, Johnson's vote was 61.3 per cent of the total compared with 60.8 per cent given Roosevelt in 1936.

Johnson's sweep strengthened the Democratic party's hold on Congress. With 17 races still in doubt, the Democrats were assured of 281 seats in the House and the Republicans of 137.

In the Senate, the Democrats had 66 seats with holdovers and the Republicans 32.

Two Senate seats—in Ohio and Nevada—were still in doubt.

Republican Robert Taft Jr. had appeared in the early morning hours to be the winner in Ohio but late tabulations put Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young into a narrow edge with the final outcome uncertain.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, elected vice president with Johnson, planned to fly to Texas to meet with Johnson.

The 56-year-old President, who has served 354 days since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, said early today in Austin, Tex., that no words were adequate "to really express the feeling of this occasion."

"Most of all," he said, "I wish to be equal to your confidence and to the hopes of all of the people of America."

He said that now that the election is over Americans must "face the world as one."

"I ask all those who supported me and all those who opposed me to forget our differences, because there are many more things in America that unite us than divide us."

Johnson won his first elective White House term by battering down Republican bastions across the nation. Maine and

Republican Congressmen Retain Seats

Curtis And Hall Survive Sweep By Democrats

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two Republican Missouri congressmen apparently survived a sweeping state-wide Democratic victory Tuesday as unofficial returns showed the Missouri congressional delegation remained dominated by eight Democrats.

Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, St. Louis County Republican, was assured of an eighth term from the state's Second District. With 314 of 325 precincts reported, he was leading Democrat Sidney B. McClanahan of Richmond Heights, 122,806 to 94,056.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, Republican Springfield physician, apparently survived the campaign assault of Democrat James A. Thomas, Joplin appliance store operator, in the Republican Seventh District. With 495 of 539 precincts reported, all was leading 77,432 to 73,408.

In northeast Missouri's Ninth District Democrat William L. Hungate of Troy won over Republican Anthony C. Schroeder, Union City treasurer, for the seat left vacant last May by the death of Democratic Rep. Clarence Cannon of Elsberry.

Sixth District—Democrat W. R. Hull Jr. of Weston to his sixth consecutive term. With 400 of 524 precincts reported, he was leading Republican Henry E. Wurst of Kansas City 79,417 to 43,020.

Eighth District—Democrat Richard H. Ichord of Houston to his third consecutive term. With 511 of 610 precincts reported, he was leading former state Sen. Ben A. Rogers, Eugene Republican, 88,684 to 45,372.

Ninth District—Democrat Hungate to a full two-year term beginning in January. With 523 of 583 precincts reported, he was leading Schroeder in the full-term race, 91,046 to 53,588.

Tenth District—Democrat Paul C. Jones of Kennett to his eighth consecutive term. With 332 of 401 precincts reported, he was leading Republican Carl F.

Eight Killed In Apartment Hotel Blaze

CHICAGO (AP)—At least eight persons, five of them children, perished early today in a fire which swept through an apartment hotel on the city's South Side, hospital and police officials said.

Twelve persons, including two firemen were hospitalized.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said the victims apparently were killed by smoke inhalation.

Quinn said some 20 of the 120 residents of the four-story brick building, the Dorchester Manor Hotel in the Hyde Park district were rescued by firemen.

Quinn said the cause had not been determined.

The Weather

Partly cloudy. Low tonight 45 to 50. High Thursday around 70.

The temperature Wednesday was 59 at 7 a.m., and 70 at noon. Low Tuesday night was 57.

The temperature one year ago today was high 55; low 46; two years ago, high 50; low 23; three years ago, high 58; low 36.

Democrats enjoyed one of their greatest victories in Pettis County Tuesday, when the entire Democratic ticket from President down through the state and county candidates rode into office on a landslide election.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey won the county by 8,232 to Senator Barry M. Goldwater's and Congressman William E. Miller's vote of 4,963. A majority of 3,269 votes.

The state ticket was led by Secretary of State Warren E. Hearnese, for Governor over Ethan A. H. Shepley, Republican, by a vote of 8,379 to 4,773, a majority of 3,606.

Pettis County's ticket was led by Sheriff Emmett Fairfax, seeking re-election over former Chief of Police Ralph Hamlin, 9,782 to 3,375, a majority of 5,407.

The lone Republican elected to office was Judge C. M. Purchase, of the Western District of the County Court. Purchase was unopposed for the office and received 1,896 votes.

U. S. Senator Stuart Symington for re-election received 8,137 to Republican Jean Paul Bradshaw's 4,974.

Attorney General Thomas F. Eagleton, for Lt. Governor received 8,258 to Jewett M. Fulkerson's 4,790.

James C. Kirkpatrick, Windsor, publisher of the Windsor Review, running for Secretary of State, received 8,279 votes over William J. "Bill" Jones, 4,710.

M. E. Morris, for State Treasurer, running for election to assume the office he once held before, received 8,243 over Perry Compton, former National Committeeman of the Republican Party who received 4,774.

Norman H. Anderson, candidate for Attorney General received 7,827 over Daniel Bartlett, Jr., who got 4,849.

Congressman William J. Randall, up for re-election in the Fourth Congressional District, received 7,723 over James M. Taylor, 4,840.

Barry Tightens Party Reins Grip

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater wired his congratulations today to President Johnson, landslide victor in the presidential race. Despite his overwhelming loss, the beaten Republican nominee made clear he intended to remain at the helm of the Republican party.

The Arizona senator said he will have plenty of time to devote to leading and strengthening the party, "being unemployed as of Jan. 3."

And that, Goldwater said, is what he intends to do.

"I don't feel that the conservative cause has been hurt," he said.

Goldwater said 1968 is a long time off. But "as of now, I would think they would probably pick another man to run."

"But as of now, that would be fine with me."

But he said the traditional role of the national ticket, even a beaten one, is to strive, lead and strengthen the party.

"I have no bitterness, no rancor at all," Goldwater said after he strolled to the rostrum of the plush desert motel, smiling despite his overwhelming defeat.

In his telegram to Johnson, Goldwater said:

"Congratulations on your victory. I will help you in any way I can toward achieving a growing and better America and a secure and dignified peace."

"The role of the Republican party will remain in that temper, but it also remains in the party of the opposition when the opposition is called for."

"There is much to be done in Viet Nam, Cuba, the problem of law and order in this country, and a productive economy."

"Communism remains the No. 1 obstacle of peace and I know all America will join with you in an honest solution of these problems."

Labor Unions Having Some Power Struggles In Ranks

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of the nation's top labor leaders have been getting kicked around in a series of internal union rows enlivening the labor scene recently.

Electrical Workers President James B. Carey and United Mine Workers chief W.A. Boyle are being challenged for their jobs after conventions marked by shouting, shoving and fist-swinging.

United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald and Textile Workers head William Pollock apparently have squelched their opposition for the present.

The Building Service Employees International Union shows the scars of a bitter power struggle between President David Sullivan and former President William L. McFetridge over a union-financed apartment development in Chicago.

Some observers add United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther to the list, contending that internal opposition led to the General Motors strike against Reuther's wishes.

Do these internal squabbles indicate widespread rank-and-file unrest in the labor movement?

"All it proves," says one national labor spokesman, "is that unions are democratic institutions."

Officials of the individual unions involved in the various disputes soft-pedaled them as of little consequence.

But other close observers of labor affairs read into them some signs of rank-and-file restiveness at a time when membership is generally stable or declining, unemployment is high and workers are worried about losing their jobs to automation.

There is also the political element of second-echelon union officials who long have been in the shadow of a more dominant figure, wondering if their chance at the top spot will ever come.

The emergence of this second generation of labor leaders as the giants of labor fade from the scene undoubtedly will stir more internal power battles.

Although Boyle's opponent, Steve Kochis, is given little chance of wresting the presidency from him, the miners are a case in point.

Boyle still is having trouble emerging from the long shadow cast by John L. Lewis, now retired but still active at the age of 84.

Boyle succeeded to the presidency when Thomas Kennedy died in 1961 and faces his first election in the referendum against Kochis in December.

A recent Miami Beach, Fla., convention of the union resulted in Boyle's challenge by Kochis — a Pennsylvania local leader. A brawl over the microphones broke out at one point, but union from a misunderstanding that spokesmen said this resulted had no connection with the Kochis-Boyle contest.

Miner spokesmen figure Kochis to get only about 10 percent of the approximately 250,000 votes.

Carey, who has headed the International Union of Electrical Workers since it was founded in 1949, appears to face more serious opposition.

His opponent, Paul Jennings, union executive board member, is threatening to go to court to guard against what he calls the possibility of an unfair election count in the November referendum among more than 200,000 union members.

Jennings' charges of dictatorship against Carey led to a raucous union convention in Washington recently in which Carey and Jennings factions shouted, threatened and scuffled for two days.

Although a reported revolt against McDonald failed at a recent convention in Atlantic City, N.J., he still is the target of criticism leveled by Joseph W. Murray, adopted son of the union's founder, Philip Murray.

Pollock apparently has retained firm control of the Textile Workers Union, but the size of his opposition before it was crushed indicated some deep disenchantment with his leadership.

No less than a dozen textile vice presidents were swept from office or resigned when Pollock was re-elected at a union convention last June in New York.

The Building Service Employees Union finally sold its interest in Marina City, a Chicago Loop real estate project, after a bitter internal dispute over its control.

McFetridge quit as a union adviser to become full-time president of Marina City after the dispute boiled over at the union's convention in Los Angeles last May.

Reuther had to put down some picketing at unauthorized locations in the strike of 260,000 auto workers at General Motors. He also had to contend with some brief wildcat strikes at three Ford plants in Cleveland, Ohio.

Although his associates say the strike situation contained no elements of opposition to Reuther, some outside observers see a potential challenge to Reuther from younger men who handle the union's day-to-day affairs. But there was no opposition when Reuther was elected several months ago to a new two-year term.

Peggy Cass Looking For A TV Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Peggy Cass, the blonde gamestess on CBS' long-playing "To Tell the Truth" panel show, was not in top form Monday night. She missed the non-liar among the contestants three times out of three.

It is not, however, a statistic that worries her. Her longevity is based not on her guessing accuracy, but on the sparkle she injects into the panel and for the enormous fund of extraneous information she has stored away — locations of obscure Irish pubs, names of German castles and champions in obscure sports.

A lot of television viewers have forgotten that Boston-born Peggy, a serious actress, got her start as one of Jack Paar's favorite "Tonight" guests.

She would prefer that they forget that she once co-starred with a family of trained chimpanzees in a short-lived comedy series called "The Hathaways." "I haven't been able to force myself to go to a zoo since we finished those shows," she reflected mournfully.

Time, however, does heal wounds, even monkey bites. A year or so ago Peggy was still shuddering every time a new television series was suggested. Now she thinks one might be interesting if the format is right. "But with people," she added.

She believes her popularity as a panelist is "because I'm sort of like the woman next door, somebody you sort of half know and someone you wouldn't be surprised to see with her hair in rollers."

She is an omnivorous reader — books, magazines and newspapers. She watches a lot of television, is a movie and theater fan. She likes people and parties.

Nationwide Coin Shortage Becomes Serious Problem

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A merchant in Nantucket, Mass., minted his own aluminum coins. A Florida bank collected coins in a wishing well and matched the proceeds with contributions to charity.

A Michigan bank offered $1 bills for 98 cents in change.

Those are some of the gimmicks employed in an effort to beat the coin shortage.

Although mints are working around the clock, the shortage probably will get worse before it gets better.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon has said that despite the near doubling of coin minting this year there is an "immediate and serious problem" to meet the demand for metal money that will reach its peak during the Christmas buying season.

William F. Kelly of Philadelphia, president of the American Bankers Association, said the Treasury's program would undoubtedly "eliminate the shortage over the long run but would not be able to alleviate the shortage in the next few months."

The association is sponsoring a "Calling All Coins" campaign over radio and television in an effort to bring silver money out of hiding.

Dillon blames speculators for a big part. He says they "have been buying up coins in quantity and keeping them off the market in hopes of higher numismatic value."

He also points his finger at coin collectors whose number has grown to 10 million in five years and at people who have the habit of emptying the change from their pocket or purse into the bureau drawer or some other place.

The tremendous growth of the coin-operated vending machine industry and the high level of retail trade have increased the demand for coins.

At one time the Treasury had built up a stockpile of 2.5 billion ounces of silver. But with increased demand, that supply has dwindled to 1.3 billion ounces.

In additions to the requirements of silver for coins, there is a growing demand from industry.

With the supply of silver diminishing, there is a move in some quarters to reduce the amount of silver in dimes, quarters and half dollars. It has also been suggested that coins be minted from other metals such as stainless steel.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Right now I am smoking myself to death waiting for my husband to come home. He went to a football game this afternoon with "the boys." It is midnight and he's not back yet.

We've been married two years and have two children. We both work and our marriage is a happy one, except for this one bad habit. If he decides to have a few drinks with the fellows after work he just goes without bothering to call and say he'll be late. When he finally gets home and I ask him why he didn't phone he says, I didn't think of it.

I'm sure I am not the only woman in the world who has this problem. What do other women do?—OUTA MYMYND.

Dear Outa: Other women do the same thing you do—they worry themselves sick, walk the floor and ask themselves 1,000 times, "Where can he be?" and "Why doesn't he call?" The answers you know very well. He's in a saloon, slopped to the eyeballs. And he doesn't call because he's a selfish, inconsiderate heel. But he's YOUR heel, and you must somehow live through the agony of it until he grows up and begins to behave like a man.

Dear Ann Landers: The person who signed himself "Cynic" should have signed himself "Ignorant." The fact that you did not refute this statement that animals kill only for food and that they do not abandon their young, shows that you've got a lot to learn about animals, too.

Weasels will kill for the sake of killing. One farmer reported losing 40 chickens in a single night. The barracuda is another blood lust killer. Some tame animals are killers, too. A male hamster or rabbit will kill his offspring if he can get at them.

Frogs, fish and other aquatic creatures sometimes devour their young. Certain insects, such as the praying mantis and the black widow spider eat their mates.

The Cynic also said animals do not abandon their young. The cowbird will lay its eggs in another bird's nest. All reptiles abandon their young. It would please me if you printed this letter to set the record straight.—R.L.H. 164, CFO.

Dear R.L.H.: Here it is and many thanks for the fascinating nature lesson. I learned from it and I'm sure millions of others did, too. (And NOW, will some of you please stop calling this a lovelorn column?)

Dear Ann Landers: A very good-looking boy came here from another city and enrolled in our high school last week. All the freshman girls are going ape over him. Before I turn myself loose I want to ask a question.

This boy wears his belt with the buckle in the back. I have heard this means he is loved and "taken." Have you ever heard of this? Please tell me right away because I can hardly wait.—ON THE VERGE.

Dear Verge: Maybe he's just a backward kid. Or perhaps it's a local folk-custom in his former school. Why don't you ask him?

Confidential to NOT EQUIPPED: Anyone who can write a letter like the one you wrote to me is well enough educated to support herself. Get out of that squirrel cage and go to work. You will then be able to hold your head up and be a self-respecting woman.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this Newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The chief of Bolivia's armed forces negotiated with rebellious army and air force factions today in an attempt to save the hard-pressed government of President Victor Paz Estenssoro.

Gen. Alfredo Obando Candia said all troop activity had been suspended while he tried to "clear up any misunderstanding among the military" who revolted in the interior Tuesday.

The government announced Tuesday night that a truce had been reached with insurgent forces, but Vice President Rene Barrientos, the leader of the uprising, demanded anew that Paz Estenssoro resign.

Barrientos, the former air force chief of staff, said he would step down too if the president would turn over power to a military junta.

Political circles considered the situation grave for Paz Estenssoro, whose regime has been plagued by student demonstrations and a tin miners' revolt for nearly two weeks.

The president in a broadcast accused Communist plotters and ambitious army officers of sparking the revolt.

Rebel broadcasts claimed all troops in Cochabamba, Oruro, Sucre, Camiri, Viacha, Santa Cruz and Robere had joined the revolt.

The government said only units in Oruro, Cochabamba and Santa Cruz had defected.

Barrientos was in Cochabamba, 350 miles southeast of La Paz.

In La Paz, the Ingavi Regiment and the Air Force Technical School revolted and seized Gen. Obando but surrendered after two hours.

Paz Estenssoro has been under fire since he had the constitution amended so he could run for a second successive term last May. Other political parties boycotted the election and his own National Revolutionary Movement was divided.

Pollsters Preen Feathers As Forecasts Proven Right

By DOUW FONDA
NEW YORK (AP) — Political pollsters grinned broadly today as they compared their forecasts with President Johnson's smashing defeat of Republican Barry Goldwater.

With 83 per cent of the nation's voting units reporting, Johnson had obtained more than 62 per cent of the popular vote, biggest popular vote margin in a presidential election since 1900 and approaching the poll forecasts.

Both the Gallup and Harris nationwide polls had predicted that Johnson would get 64 per cent; Goldwater 36 per cent.

Johnson beat the records set by Warren G. Harding in 1920 and Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1936. Harding won 60.4 per cent of the popular vote and Roosevelt 60.8 per cent.

The pollsters' success was a far cry from 1948 when President Harry S. Truman defeated Gov. Thomas E. Dewey with 50 per cent of the vote against Dewey's 45.6 per cent.

That year Gallup forecast that Dewey would get 49.6 per cent and Truman would get 44.6; the Crossley Poll gave Dewey 49.9 and Truman 44.9; and the Roper Poll gave Dewey 52.2 and Truman 37.3.

The Gallup and Harris polls were not the only nationwide ones to predict Johnson's victory.

The patrol followed a paper pumpkin trail until they met an Indian, Mrs. George Goodier. The patrol had to tell her how to tell North by the sun and the Indian then gave them a sketch map to follow. It led them to the Wesley Methodist Church, where Mrs. Harold Lane asked them to tell her two ways they could be a good citizen on a hike. They then had to demonstrate how to fold the American flag.

Next, a red ribbon trail led them to the patio at Mrs. Tom Hopkins' home. There they were met by Mrs. Dale Milley for whom they presented their My Community skits.

On the corner Mrs. Otis Baer took them safely across Broadway and told them in what language they were to greet the person who answered the door at Mrs. Ira White's home. Mrs. Rick Fullerton answered the door dressed as a ghost. They told her the symbol all Girl Scouts and Guides wear (World Association pin).

As the Girl Scouts followed a rope, a wolf, Mrs. Ira White, jumped out of a closet to startle them. They continued to follow the rope to the basement, where Leesa White served refreshments and each patrol made its patrol flag.

Ecumenical Declarations Are Near

VATICAN CITY (AP) -- The Vatican Ecumenical Council is reported ready to proclaim two major decrees before it recesses Nov. 21 even if its declarations on the Jews and on religious liberty cannot be made ready by then.

Council sources said the three weeks remaining before the session ends probably would be insufficient to complete revision and voting on the two brief declarations.

The documents which Pope Paul VI and the Roman Catholic bishops are expected to promulgate are the schema on ecumenism -- Christian unity -- three chapters long, and the schema on the nature of the Church, which runs eight chapters.

The Jewish and religious liberty declarations have been handled as annexes to the ecumenism schema which has been voted and accepted chapter by chapter. The sources felt it unlikely that its final promulgation would be delayed until the next council session -- which may not come until 1966 -- for the sake of the yet unvoted declarations.

It appears that the two declarations will end up as separate documents, their importance thus perhaps heightened even if adoption is delayed.

Both the declaration on the Jews and the declaration on religious liberty caused trouble when the council debated them a month ago as annexes to the ecumenism schema.

The Jewish declaration, formerly a chapter within the schema on unity, had been recorded between the 1963 and 1964 council sessions. A statement exonerating Jews from blame for the Crucifixion was replaced by one saying only that Jews of today could not be linked with the events of Christ's execution.

Many bishops, including prominent American prelates, argued the council must absolve Jews from any notion of deicide. Other council fathers, especially from the Middle East, said that too strong a statement could cause trouble for Catholicism in Arab nations.

The debate on the religious liberty declaration centered on whether all men have the right to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience.

Progressive prelates argued they do. Conservatives said persons who hold erroneous religious beliefs, are worthy only of tolerance.

The Vatican's Christian Unity Secretariat is revising the two declarations on the basis of the debate.

The council has voted chapter-by-chapter approval of the ecumenism schema. It lays a groundwork for the entire range of Roman Catholic participation in the search for Christian unity, including Catholic participation in common prayer with non-Catholic Christians and inter-communion with Orthodox Catholics in special cases.

Mixture of Bliss, Sadness Follows After the Election

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) -- A bitter-sweet time follows an American national political campaign.

After the votes have been counted, no matter what the outcome is, a mixture of gladness and sadness sweeps the land.

All the winners and losers aren't necessarily those whose names were on the tickets as candidates.

Most of those who merely played the role of voters say they are pleased the quadrennial ordeal of democracy is over. They set about quietly regaining the friendships they lost in the heat of partisan argument.

After all, why lose a lifelong golfing buddy just because he was in favor of Archimedes J. Marmaduke for Congress when you thought yourself the country would fall apart if James Aloysius O'Forpatesake didn't get the job?

The truth in the sober light of reality the day after the election is that the nation still faces the same troubles it did before, and the problems it confronts loom neither larger nor smaller.

Both the winning and losing candidates are left with a feeling of wounded vanity and considerable distrust. The winner is suspicious of those who didn't jump on his bandwagon at the very start; the loser is convinced that he was sabotaged by those in whom he placed his dearest trust.

There are others to whom the decisive verdict of the ballot brings woes.

Let us consider the manufacturer of campaign buttons. What is he going to do with those thousands upon thousands of unsold emblems for Archimedes J. Marmaduke or James Aloysius O'Forpatesake?

He must go back to putting out those doleful jocular buttons that say things like "Oh, you kid" or "I'm for you baby."

The end of a major campaign also ends the eminence of the professional poll takers. Instead of chronicling hour by hour the feverish changes of the national public political pulse, they have to return to such ordinary sordid questionings as, "If your wife died, would you remarry?" and "As a teen-age high school girl, what qualities do you look for in a perfect husband?"

Almost everybody says at the conclusion of a political struggle or a war, "It was an awful bore. Thank goodness, it's over and we can get back to common sense living."

But the truth is that most of them are lying. The fact is that it is struggle that brings excitement to our lives, and nothing bores us more than periods without struggle and doubt.

Now that it is all over for the time being, who do you really think will win in 1968? How can we wait four long years to find out?

beautiful and interesting places around the world. To acquaint the public with the series, the first travelogue showing will be free of charge to those who secure an admission ticket from any Sedalia Rotarian.

Gene Wiancko was professionally engaged as an exploration geophysicist for twelve years. He was in charge of the expedition that discovered the world's northernmost gas field at Point Barrow, Alaska. He is a graduate of the University of California and a member of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists. He has produced films of such areas as Hungary, Yugoslavia, Romania, Mexico, Munich, Venice, Davos and Carcas-sonne. The film and lecture on "The Legendary Mediterranean" covers a trip from Sicily to Seville. The beginning of the program opens with a sailing from New York, and a stop at the Azores off the coast of Africa. In North Africa stops are made at Tangiers and Tetuan to discover the people and their customs and superstitions.

In Sicily, Wiancko photographed Palermo and its harbor; the people and the great temple ruins of Agrigento. In Syracuse, visits are made to a huge quarry and to the beaches. The next stop is made at Sardinia to include Cagliari, Sassari and to become better acquainted with the men, women and children. The rugged coastline of Corsica, and the story of Pompeii is unfolded on the screen by Gene Wiancko's photography and narration. Stops are also made in Rome to find the Forum and Coliseum, fountains, bridges and the people of Rome. Other Italian landmarks are Pisa, Genova, Santa Margherita, and the Italian Riviera, including Capri and Ischia. Then on to Monaco, Nice, and the French Riviera.

In the Costa Brava region are located Andorra and the rugged landscapes, Basque villages and the story of Carcassonne, Tossa, Barcelona and many sequences filled with color and activity. The second portion of the film

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P. W. Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P. W. Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special ones for children and adults.

Improper Entries
To New Parking Lot

Chief of Police William Miller today issued a note of traffic caution to motorists utilizing the new parking lot at Second and Ohio.

Miller said some drivers eastbound on Second Street have been seen to make a "dog leg" turn on to Ohio Avenue and enter the lot there. These drivers should continue east on Second Street where two entrances to the lot are located, he said.

For traffic on Ohio Avenue, it is possible to enter the lot only if you are northbound, the chief pointed out. Southbound traffic is prevented from making a left turn at the intersection and a left turn would mean crossing the oncoming lane.

BRIDGE STAMP—This five-cent commemorative stamp is being issued in conjunction with the opening of New York's Verrazano-Narrows Bridge, the world's longest suspension bridge. The single-color vertical stamp was designed by Robert L. Miller.

Shed Light
On Insurance
Firm Shift

Some additional details were made available Wednesday by city officials regarding the City Council's approval Monday night of a new firm to provide hospitalization insurance coverage for city employees.

Councilmen approved the bid of Marjorie Garanson, a special agent for the Prudential Insurance Company, at a closed door meeting the night of Oct. 26 and then formally approved the contract Monday night. However, bids or names of the firms submitting bids were not made public by the council at that time.

Two bids, both the same, were submitted by the Prudential company, although different agencies were represented, the Democrat-Capital learned. These bids were turned in by the Garanson agency and by the Prudential office at 200 East Fifth, represented by Elmer L. McClung, manager.

Other bidders as provided by City Clerk Ralph Dedrick were the Mid-America Insurance Company, submitted by Floyd Stockman; the Aetna Insurance Company, submitted by Hank Monsees; the Farmers New World Life Insurance Company, submitted by Wendell McCleary; the United Benefit Insurance Company, submitted by David Eisenstein; the Mid-West National Insurance Company, submitted by C. Randall Smart; the Great-West Life Assurance Company, submitted by David Curry; and the Sentry Insurance Company, submitted by Dick Snow.

The new insurance plan comes at a premium increase of 29 cents per employee for the city and 23 cents per city employee for dependent coverage in comparison to the old program under the Businessmen's Assurance Company of Kansas City, which previously held the city's business.

Despite the slight rate increase, Mayor L. L. Studer commented Wednesday that it was the council's feeling the city could be better served by a company represented locally. The BMA firm is not reported to have a local agent.

Comparing the charges, City Clerk Dedrick reports the city previously paid $3.06 under the BMA program for coverage on each of its employees. Under the new plan the city will pay $3.35 per employee, a 29 cent increase.

The city does not provide coverage for dependents of employees and they must pay this themselves. This cost is 23 cents higher, going up from $7.31 to $7.54, the clerk's figures show.

There are 152 city employees covered under the program, Dedrick reported, and 71 of these have dependent insurance. The Prudential bid by the Garanson agency was reported as the next to the lowest bid and was apparently accepted by the council on a "lowest and best bid" basis after some skepticism was indicated concerning the low bid.

Ballots cast at the various precincts throughout the city and county flowed in fairly briskly from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. as precinct judges completed their tallies and brought the ballot containers to the county clerk's office. At 10:30 four precincts, all in the city, remained out and two of these did not arrive until midnight.

Latest to arrive was the city's largest, the second precinct in the Fourth Ward, where a total of 1,011 votes were cast at the O'Connor auto agency on South Limit. Judges did not complete their tallies there until 4:30 a.m. Wednesday due to the large number of votes to handle.

The 1,011 turnout at that precinct represented 80.8 per cent of the voters registered there.

The other late arriving precinct was the fourth in the First Ward, voting at the County Fire Station, Main and State Fair Blvd. This precinct came in about 1 a.m.

The popular-vote totals gave Johnson 39,128,664, Goldwater 24,741,620. This indicated a margin of more than 61.2 per cent for the President, more than the 60.8 per cent Franklin D. Roosevelt ran up in 1936.

The extent of the far-reaching Johnson victory was shown by the count at 6:30 a.m. EST: With 270 electoral votes needed to win, the President had collected 486 from 45 states.

Goldwater had won five states with 47 electoral votes, led in 1 with 5.

It lent Goldwater, the conservative who offered "a choice, not an echo," with the limited consolation of having carried Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and perhaps his native Arizona.

The thundering Johnson wave hit the Republican party a shattering blow, engulfing moderates like Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in New York and conservatives like Rep. Bruce Alger of Texas.

But some party members who can be expected to take leading parts in the struggle certain to develop over control of the GOP survived the storm. Standouts among these were Gov. George Romney who won re-election as governor while Johnson was carrying Michigan handily and Rep. Robert Taft Jr., elected to the Senate while the President was winning Ohio's electoral votes, and Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

It lent Goldwater, the conservative who offered "a choice, not an echo," with the limited consolation of having carried Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and perhaps his native Arizona.

The thundering Johnson wave hit the Republican party a shattering blow, engulfing moderates like Sen. Kenneth B. Keating in New York and conservatives like Rep. Bruce Alger of Texas.

But some party members who can be expected to take leading parts in the struggle certain to develop over control of the GOP survived the storm. Standouts among these were Gov. George Romney who won re-election as governor while Johnson was carrying Michigan handily and Rep. Robert Taft Jr., elected to the Senate while the President was winning Ohio's electoral votes, and Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

The extent of the far-reaching Johnson victory was shown by the count at 6:30 a.m. EST: With 270 electoral votes needed to win, the President had collected 486 from 45 states.

Goldwater had won five states with 47 electoral votes, led in 1 with 5.

GM Completes Big Three's Reports of Earnings Rise

DETROIT (AP) — Boom year 1964 of the nation's auto industry now boasts record nine-month earnings from each of its "Big Three."

General Motors, biggest of the trio, made it complete Monday by reporting a $1.36-billion profit and announcing a $569-million dividend payment.

The GM dividend, a $2-a-share payment to 1.15 million common stockholders, will help to swell the pre-Christmas flow of money. The $2 is $1.35 above the usual GM quarterly payment.

Earlier, both Ford and Chrysler had reported record nine-month earnings.

General Motors made its profits report as the giant automaker was getting up headway again in production following a crippling United Auto Workers Union strike.

For the first time since the strike began Sept. 25, all five of GM's passenger car divisions were turning out cars Monday, the company said.

The UAW called off its national strike Oct. 5, following agreement on a national contract, but strikes over local disputes among the company's 130 plants continued to cripple production.

As of today, only 12 local settlements were outstanding. GM makes the Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Cadillac, Chevrolet and Buick cars.

Ford, which faces a Friday strike threat by the UAW, had yet to complete 20 agreements among 90 bargaining units.

Ford and the UAW have settled nationally.

General Motors' nine-month profit of $1.36 billion, from record sales, was the equivalent of $4.75 a share, up 25 per cent from the $1.086 billion, or $3.79 a share, of the same period last year.

The $2 dividend will be payable Dec. 10 to stockholders of record Nov. 12. GM's dividends for the year so far total $1.26 billion.

Sales for the first nine months this year rose 13 per cent to $13.16 billion as against $11.68 billion last year.

Says Nation Now Must Be As One

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) —President Johnson, fresh from a landslide election victory, said today Americans now must "face the world as one."

The task, he said, is to "bind up our wounds and to make this nation whole."

"I ask all those who supported me and all those that opposed me to forget our differences, because there are many more things in America that unite us than divide us," he said in an appearance at Memorial Auditorium.

Johnson, said, "These are times when our nation should forget our petty differences and stand united before all the world."

"I know that this is more than a victory of party or person. It is a tribute to the program that was begun by the late beloved President, John F. Kennedy . . . a program that he carried on until he was taken from us."

He said men of independent views and men and women of both parties put their country before their party.

"It is a tribute to men and women of all parties," he said. "It is a mandate for unity, for a government that serves no special interest—no business government, no labor government."

"I do not know what happened in every hamlet or voting box in America today, but I think I discerned what happened in all America today."

"I doubt that there has ever been so many people saying so many things alike on decision day. And with that understanding and with the help of all of them we will be on our way to achieve peace in our time for our people."

"So to all of you who have gone this long road with me . . . I say I hope you have a good rest tomorrow, my thanks to all of you, and thanks to all Americans."

Cold War on Local Basis

For the next few years at least the nation is not likely to go to pot now that the voters have made selections from among the candidates seeking public office.

Some of the disappointed ones will take issue with the prediction that all is saved for another four years. They will go about quietly looking for more public enemies but this time we hope it is outside the realm of politics.

After what we have been through the last two months, the times call for a diversion. If it is an enemy we seek, there is one currently available—Old King Cold.

He's at it again locally, many sniffers can vouchsafe. They have been conducting their own defensive campaign with grease, aspirin and gargle. It may be a losing battle, but it can be a relieving one. The trouble is we are outnumbered. According to the American Medical Association the number of viruses producing the symptoms of a "cold" are at least 100.

This is why cold vaccines, effective against only a few viruses, are of little value. There is no cure, only relief and prevention of complications.

Old King Cold is an enemy we need to concentrate on. He inflicts suffering on more than 20 million people on any given winter day. He costs the nation $5 billion in lost wages and 150 million man days lost from the work force each year.

Inclement weather, dampness and chills don't cause colds themselves but could be triggering factors. More important is humidity because hot, dry air inside houses makes the respiratory tract more vulnerable to invasion of cold viruses.

Sensible hygienic measures should be adopted by the cold sufferers, so many of whom are next to criminally careless about such things as covering coughs and sneezes, frequent hand washing, use of separate drinking glasses in the home, and keeping at a minimum close contact with others.

Some people may believe Old King Cold's visit more welcome than that of Old King Politics. But that is wishful thinking. A protracted regimen of grease, aspirin, gargle and any of a dozen other nostrums, in addition to the distress and discomfort of a cold, is nothing to sneeze at.

Republicans Are Nursing Big Conservative Hangover

By J. A. Dear
Minneapolis — The GOP has had its fling with doctrinaire conservatism and now is nursing the inevitable hangover.

Probably the patient will survive. But this dance with Barry Goldwater has been expensive: many capable Republicans have been swept from office, and the Democrats who have taken their place may hold power for a long time.

In the event, the basic structure of American politics will have undergone a profound change. For LBJ's triumph is not comparable to FDR's in 1936, except in magnitude.

FDR led a Democratic party that found itself in a continuing state of warfare with the business community. But only in the states of the deep South has President Johnson failed to attain his objective: broad support from all elements of the population. He has a sounder political base to build on.

The simple fact is that President Johnson and Senator Humphrey were so right in saying that Americans don't like extremes. Doctrinaire liberals are tough to take too, and if the Democrats are ever foolish enough to nominate one for the presidency they will lose as badly as Sen. Goldwater did this time.

Doctrinaire conservatives and liberals have much in common. They insist on domination. Those they can't convert they reject. (Barry said as much in his acceptance speech at the convention.) It's an expensive point of view.

In retrospect, the legacy of Western populism has been helpful to the Democrats. As political leaders President Johnson and Sen. Humphrey work for consensus.

They regard the federal government as the citizen's friend, as a partner that can help strong men walk through life as men by lessening the threat of disaster. Too often the conservative gives the impression that disaster only overtakes the unworthy, that the man of ingenuity and rectitude must become as rich as an Alger hero.

This is the impression that Goldwater gave. His apparently casual approach to the problem of nuclear war completed a fatal political combination.

As always, it will be more difficult to repair the damage than it was to inflict it.

LBJ Faces Growing Race Tension

By DREW PEARSON

MC COMB, Miss.—Shortly after President Johnson rests up from the hectic pace of the election campaign, he will have to tackle one of the most difficult race problems in the United States. It has been festering for some time in the Red loam hills and cotton fields of southern Mississippi and burst into intense bitterness just before the election.

What caused the burst was the following chain of events:

1.—ON OCT. 23 nine white bombers who had pleaded guilty or no defense to bombing churches and Negro homes in McComb, were given suspended sentences. Maximum penalty for bombing in Mississippi could have been death. However, the nine white men did not serve a single day in jail, and while in court they chatted and joked with local police as if they were old and intimate friends.

Judge W. H. Watkins, in pronouncing sentence, said: "You are mostly young men, just starting out" . . . and "from good families." Four of the bombers were aged 44, 38, 36, and 35.

Judge Watkins has not been sympathetic to race extremism, and the Ku Klux Klan last summer burned a cross on his lawn. But at a Methodist conference called to discuss separation of Mississippi Methodists from the vigorous integrationist leadership of the national church, Judge Watkins made a speech urging Mississippi Methodists to withdraw.

You Can't Cook Here

2.—ON OCT. 23, the same day the nine white bombers got off without spending a day in jail, twelve Freedom Workers were arrested for cooking without a health permit.

They were not selling food or conducting a restaurant, but cooking for themselves in Freedom House. Cooking, for them, is almost compulsory. In the first place they are paid only $10 a week and cannot afford to go to restaurants. Second, they are boycotted in many Negro restaurants, whose owners don't want to incur white wrath by serving them. Finally, integrated groups are not welcome in many white restaurants.

After the twelve Freedom Workers were arrested for cooking, one of their colleagues phoned me in Washington to ask help in raising bail money. The call was prompted by the fact that America's Conscience Fund had put up bail for fifteen spectators charged with "syndicalism" when they gathered to see the charred ruins of the Society Hill Baptist Church and the home of Mrs. Alyene Quin after they were bombed.

At about 11 p.m. on Oct. 23, I telephoned Police Chief George Guy, a reasonable man, and he promised to release the twelve cooking culprits that night. I told him it was difficult to get bail money at that late hour, but pledged that it would be on hand in the morning.

Subsequently, Chief Guy couldn't find Judge Harry Case who had sworn out the warrants for the cooking arrests, and the twelve, unlike the nine white bombers, remained in jail all night.

Next day, Oct. 24, on behalf of America's Conscience Fund, I sent the bail money to Mississippi and the twelve were released.

You Can't Vote Here

3.—ON OCT. 26, twenty-four Freedom Workers were arrested at nearby Magnolia, Miss., county seat for McComb, for trying to register Negro voters.

The actual charge against them was trespassing. Sheriff R. R. Warren met them in the county court house, informed them that the registrar was busy acting as clerk of court, and gave them three minutes to get off county property. He said the registrar would be tied up for some weeks.

For many years it has been customary for the registrar to be tied up in court. This was not the case on Oct. 26.

So it became fairly obvious that the white officials of McComb did not want the 150 Negroes, carefully coached by the Freedom Workers to pass a voting test, to take that test.

It also began to be fairly evident that the reason why the Freedom Workers were arrested for cooking three days before, and the reason authorities were reluctant to release them was because they wanted to put a crimp in any large scale registration.

Negro Unity

The effect of all this has been to unite the Negro community. Hitherto, the great majority of Negroes were not sympathetic with the Freedom Workers. As Mrs. Quin remarked, "You could count the number of Negroes who supported COFO on the fingers of two hands."

But after the release of the nine white bombers who had pleaded guilty or no defense, followed by the arrest of the twelve Freedom Workers for cooking, and the arrest of 24 Freedom Workers for trying to register Negro voters, the Negro population of McComb became indignant.

And by the time the latter arrests took place, Negroes themselves were beginning to raise bail money for the release of those arrested.

By this time there also had developed inside McComb's white community, as in many other parts of Mississippi, grave doubt regarding the wisdom of pushing racist discrimination so far.

Finally, there is certain to be grave reaction in Washington, after officials have a chance to recover from the great debate decided yesterday.

In recent weeks, part of the Justice Department has been so busy campaigning for Bobby Kennedy, and so busy wiring newspapers to deny anything critical of Bobby, that enforcement of the Civil Rights Act has been ignored.

But interference with voter registrations is a clear, concrete violation, and even if the limping Justice Department doesn't want to get into the act, President Johnson, who ordered the FBI back into McComb to catch the nine white bombers, almost certainly will.

Goldwater's Political Grave Sealed

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater dug his political grave before he ever formally got into the presidential race. After that he sealed it.

Before saying he was a candidate — perhaps when he never dreamed of being one — in speeches and books he expressed views completely out of the mainstream of American life for the past 30 years.

Once in the race he became vague, hedged on some of his unpopular previous statements, and used up an extraordinary amount of his time insisting he was not irresponsible.

It seems incredible that a presidential candidate would feel it necessary to protest he was not "trigger-happy." But he admitted this charge against him by Democrats was one of his worst handicaps.

Thus in the slaughter inflicted on him in Tuesday's election by President Johnson, the voters who repudiated him in such overwhelming numbers had to consider two things above all: his views and his judgment.

For a man who proposed to change the long-accepted view of American government — a big one, with broad responsibility for the general welfare — he put on an unimaginative performance. He proposed almost nothing concrete.

His own hand-picked men who ran the party and the campaign for him — his brain trust — must share responsibility for the inadequacies of his performance.

He and they were the constant critics of things as they are but were almost totally lacking on the constructive side in the sense of offering specific solutions for what they said ailed the country.

What they seemed to have in mind, judging from the little they made clear in the campaign and from what Goldwater said before he became a candidate, was this: a much diminished central government and the elimination of many programs, particularly many social welfare programs.

After his shattering defeat Goldwater couldn't hope for another try at the White House.

Of far more importance now to the future of the two-party system in American politics — and perhaps to the future of the country — is what happens to the Republican organization in the four years before the next election.

Conservative Goldwaterites have control of the party machinery. Will the moderate and liberal Republicans, shunted aside this year, let them keep control?

Every Republican in the country today — no matter the shade of his thinking — must ask himself that question. For unless the badly split organization is put together it may wind up as a splinter group.

One prediction seems accurate: an intense fight for control of the party is coming. As if in anticipation of this and in defiance of anti-Goldwater Republicans, the senator's campaign manager, Denison Kitchel, said Tuesday night: "It doesn't look like we're going to win this first round. We have to wait for four years, but we're going to get this government back where it belongs."

For more than a generation the Democratic and Republican parties were so much alike that they represented only various shades of the middle and in that time presidential races were personality contests, not elections on issues.

This was the first time in all those years that the voters had a chance to choose between a moderate course of government — particularly the welfare state government, such as this one — and the skeleton, conservative kind represented by the Goldwaterites.

If it hadn't been for that one odd factor in this campaign — the consideration voters had to give to Goldwater's responsibility or lack of it — it could be argued the whole Goldwater philosophy was repudiated.

But because the factor is there Goldwater's heirs in control of the party can argue that the voters were not rejecting their kind of conservatism but were influenced by the "trigger-happy" charge.

'My Mother Is Selfish'

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: When my brother died two years ago, my mother, 69, came to live with me. Mrs. Lawrence, I never knew how selfish she is. So she could enjoy a garden, I took a suburban apartment that forces me to take two buses to work. If my bus is late, I have to get off it to telephone her. But what hurts me most is that she always gets sick if I am sick. If I get the flu, she always has to have a bad attack of arthritis to prevent me from asking her to do something for me. . . .

Answer: Calling your mother "selfish" will get you nowhere. She's afraid. She's afraid of losing your protection. She requires you to get off the bus and report on your safety because your safety is her safety.

She gets arthritis attacks when you are sick because your sickness arouses her fear of losing your protection. And that fear compels her to make demands on your strength to reassure herself that it is still available.

We can call her "selfish" if

Croup Attacks Severe For Nervous Children

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Any acute upset in a child is frightening, but one of the most alarming is croup. It always occurs at night. The child's difficulty in breathing makes him blue in the face and causes the veins to stand out in his neck and forehead.

Croup usually occurs in the winter in children between 2 and 4 years of age. A child who has gone to bed with a slight hoarseness or a case of sniffles awakens a few hours later with a spasm in his larynx and a barking or hollow cough. Between the paroxysms he can barely speak above a whisper.

These attacks are especially severe in nervous children of high-strung parents.

When attacks occur, close the window if the room is cold and have the child sit up in bed. Inhaling warm moist air will give relief. As a temporary measure you may want to take the child into the bathroom, shut the door and turn on the hot shower.

A croup kettle near the child's bed is better if it generates enough steam to warm and moisten the air. The child should not inhale the steam directly but for quick results you can use a sheet to make a tent over the kettle and the child's head.

Always take precautions not to place the vaporizer where the child can knock or pull it over and scald himself. Although all you need in the vaporizer is water, the addition of tincture of benzoin is a terrific psychological booster to many parents.

Even such old-fashioned remedies as a mustard plaster on the child's chest is beneficial and not to be sneezed (or coughed) at. Any child who has a tendency to croup should be protected against cold air and against persons with colds or other respiratory infections until he outgrows the attacks at about 4 years of age.

Things In-Laws Should Do

So you're off to visit a married son or daughter. You won't wear out your welcome if you will just remember that you are a guest and try to be a gracious one.

That means you won't try to be too helpful — such as taking over the kitchen or offering suggestions for rearranging the living room. Instead, notice how the family is used to doing things. When you volunteer for a job, do it their way.

Enjoy your grandchildren, but don't give their parents any advice about rearing them. You had your chance to put your theories on the subject into practice, now let them have theirs.

Poteen, also called potheen, potsheen and poteen, is the term applied in Ireland to any potable spirit distilled illicitly in a pot still. Illicit distillation was practiced extensively in the 19th century in Ireland, especially in the inaccessible districts of the island, but this has been largely suppressed. Poteen has been found to be more than twice the strength of legitimate Irish whisky.

Don't harp on how hard your son or his daughter — as the case may be — has to work. Most young men have to work hard to provide for a family and most young wives and mothers have to work hard at home making.

Be generous with your praise and admiration. Make the young homemaker feel proud of the way she has furnished her home, of the meals she cooks, of the way she handles the children's problems. Make the man of the house feel pleased with the way he is providing for his family. What you can't in honesty praise, don't mention.

Don't criticize the young couple's friends, even if you don't approve of them.

Be easy to entertain. That means going along happily with any plans made for your enjoyment. Find ways to amuse yourself when everyone else is busy.

If you'll be as tactful a guest in your child's home as you would in a friend's home, you'll always be welcome.

The American Heritage certificates were awarded to 17 Cub Scouts who participated in the American Heritage theme for October.

A film was presented to the group entitled: "The Boy from Hickory Street."

The Halloween party followed the film with the boys dressing in their costumes and parading in front of the judges. Gifts went to the funniest, the most gruesome, the most original and the cutest.

The meeting was then closed with a reading "Brotherhood in Scouting" by Den 3.

The following sisters and brothers and their mates have, each couple, been married more than 50 years: Sidney A. Lee, Sr., Claremore; Lon L. Lee, Porter, Oklahoma; Mrs. Cleo Dobbins, Coweta, Okla.; Mrs. Opal Knight, Pryor, Okla. All their mates are living.

Another sister, Mrs. Allie Lotspiech, Claremore, celebrated her 53rd anniversary with her husband in 1953 at Beaman. They were married in Sedalia, Nov. 30, 1903. Mr. Lotspiech died in 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. Dobbins were married Jan. 30, 1909 in Wagoner. The Knights were wed Nov. 28, 1912 at Coweta, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lee were married Sept. 3, 1913 at Muskogee. Mr. and Mrs. Lon Lee were united in marriage Jan. 15, 1913 in Muskogee.

The children are following a precedent set by their parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lee, who celebrated their 62nd anniversary.

The family moved from Missouri to Broken Arrow in 1904.

Tigers In Final Home Grid Game

Tonight the Smith-Cotton Tigers play their final home game of the 1964 football season. They will meet the St. Joseph Benton high school Cardinals on the Jennie Jaynes gridiron.

Next Thursday night the Tigers will travel southward to Springfield, Mo., where they play the Parkview high school team in the final game of the year.

Coach Dick Rees in discussing his Bengals reported they appear to be in excellent condition.

Statistics Show Bills Are Leading

NEW YORK (AP) — The Buffalo Bills, whose idea of how to play football is grind it out but don't give anything out, are the only undefeated and untied team in pro football. The American Football League's statistics show why.

In the team offense and defense figures released today, the Bills are No. 1 in all but one of the major categories and a very good second in that one.

With big Cookie Gilchrist showing the way, Buffalo has the best AFL running attack, averaging 165.7 yards per game and 4.5 yards per attempt. Add to the 1,326 yards the Bills have gained by rushing, a total of 1,980 yards on 102 completed passes and you get 3,306 yards and an impressive average of 413.2 yards per game.

The Oakland Raiders are first in passing offense with 2,170 yards on 151 completions, averaging 271.2 yards a game. That gives them second in total offense with a 361.6 yards per game.

On defense Buffalo has yielded only 2,134 yards in eight games — 632 by rushing and 1,502 by passing for an over-all average of 266.7 yards per game. They're first all the way. In addition, the Bills have been penalized only 23 times for 233 yards, another No. 1 figure.

Only in a couple of places can the Bills be faulted. They have fumbled 15 times and lost seven of them. Their pass completion percentage is next-to-lowest and their percentage of interceptions is the highest.

excellent spirits and are ready for the battle for points tonight. With only two good days of practice to study the Benton plan of battle, Rees feels the locals are ready and have a good chance of upsetting the "upsetting" team from St. Joseph.

Rhyme Has Plenty Of Catchers

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A good receiver is a passer's best friend and Jerry Rhyme has a lot of good friends.

Rhyme, the University of Tulsa's quarterback and Associated Press Back of the Week for the second time this season, has plenty of talented catchers for his passes.

Last Saturday, they grabbed 35 of 43 he put up giving him 488 passing yards and 504 yards in total offense as Tulsa blitzed Oklahoma State 61-14. That gave him three more major collegiate one-game records — most completions, most passing yardage and most total offense yardage.

An earlier Rhyme record — seven touchdown passes in one game — led to his first selection as AP's Back of the Week two weeks ago.

Rhyme gives plenty of credit to his receivers, but added, "Those blockers are just as good friends."

He's especially high on the "awfully fine blockers" in the backfield, Bob Daugherty and Bill Goods, who double as Tulsa's runners.

Rhyme's receivers are mostly smaller guys — led by 5-foot 10 Howard Twilley — but he says they're so good all he has to do is get the ball to them.

He does that so successfully he's had only four interceptions out of 204 passes this year and has thrown more than 70 straight times without losing one.

Calhoun Teams Win Their Third Straight Victory

Both Calhoun Varsity and B teams took their third straight win of the season Tuesday in two contests against Cole Camp on the Calhoun hardwood.

Calhoun jumped to an early seven-point lead in the first quarter and continued to lead through the half. However, Cole Camp came from behind to outscore the locals in the second half. The final score was a close 57-49 for Calhoun.

Heater paced Calhoun with 14 hits. Reinert was high for Cole Camp with 19, followed by Smart with 14.

The B contest saw Cole Camp fall to Calhoun, 43-32. Mark Mottinger led the way for Calhoun with 20 points. High point honors for Cole Camp were shared by D. Sublett and Garrett with eight markers each.

Calhoun will see action again next Tuesday as they meet Sherwood at Calhoun.

Score by quarters:
Calhoun 18 14 13 12—57
Cole Camp 11 8 14 16—49
Individual scoring: Calhoun—Baird, 13; Berry, 8; Heater, 14; Miller, 13; F. Avery, 9. Cole Camp—Webb, 2; Smart, 14; M. Kroenke, 2; M. Garrett, 2; Reinert, 19; S. Kroenke, 12.

Geigel And Stomper Out To Build A Reputation

Bob Geigel and the Stomper set out tonight to build a reputation as the toughest mat combo in the Midlands. And they have their work cut out for them.

Opposing the two-pronged roughing tandem will be the Lawman and Don Jardine, both game, well-qualified heavyweights who have had a measure of success on their own in Mo-Kan area action.

The pairing will highlight a four-event program at Convention Hall.

Singly, Geigel and the Stomper have dominated action in the early season. Together, they figure to be doubly dangerous, the Stomper with his head-knocking tactics and Geigel with his hit-quick and step back offensive style.

Jardine is regarded as one of the ablest heavyweights around, a master at strategic wrestling, rather than a free-swinger. The Lawman has proved his ability to mix on the same roughing level with the likes of Geigel and the Stomper and is anxious to spoil their bid for team supremacy.

Also on hand tonight will be powerful Art Thomas, a towering Negro belter who stands 6-5 and weighs 265. The sailorman is pitted against Tiny Mills, a hefty fellow who has an effective way of jolting his foes quickly.

The Lawmon, an old enemy of Geigel, will get a single shot at the ex-Big Ten footballer in another event, while Jardine will test his skills against the Stomper in the 8-15 opener.

Rich Bernsen Big 8 Lineman Of the Week

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG Associated Press Sports Writer

Rich Bernsen, Missouri's sophomore linebacker, is the Big Eight lineman of the week for his outstanding play against unbeaten Nebraska, in a close choice over Bob Mitts of Kansas State and Langston Coleman of Nebraska.

Bernsen, a 190-pounder from Ferguson, a St. Louis suburb, led the Tiger defensive team with 14 tackles, including five unassisted stops. Twice he made third-down stops which forced Nebraska to give up the ball.

He also partially blocked a third field goal attempt by Nebraska's Duncan Drum and deflected a pass.

Mitts, a 200-pound senior middle guard, made nine tackles, four of them unassisted, knocked down a pass and made three key third-down stops, two forcing punts and the third stopping a 90-yard Kansas drive.

Coleman's big defensive play at end broke the ice in a rough, scoreless battle. He barreled into Missouri's Gary Lane from his blind side and knocked him into the end zone for a safety. He made two other tackles, one on Lane for a loss and kept Missouri from gaining outside.

Other nominees were tackle Brian Schweda of Kansas, center Jim Wipert of Iowa State, and Ray Lemasters of Colorado, and end Rick McCurdy of Oklahoma. All are defensive players. Only Wipert played any offense.

Moore Not Strongest, Nor Fastest

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore's Lenny Moore isn't the strongest or the swiftest runner in the National Football League. He averages an unspectacular four yards each time he carries the ball. He's not among the leading pass receivers, either.

But show him the end zone just ahead and he's a hard man to stop.

"His legs are always pumping," says teammate Bob Boyd. "The deception he shows you is why so many tacklers miss him."

That's why Moore, leading the NFL in scoring this season, already has set one league record and is within reach of two others.

So far he has scored thirteen touchdowns for 78 points, 14 more than Jim Bakken of St. Louis. He has made touchdowns by running in each of the last 10 games he has played. That's the record he set. One more by any means against the Chicago Bears Sunday will equal the record of scoring in 11 consecutive games held by Elroy Hirsch of Los Angeles and Buddy Dial of Pittsburgh, both star pass catchers.

And just a few more touchdowns will bring Moore up to his own Baltimore record of 15 in one season and the NFL record of 19, set by Jim Taylor of Green Bay in 1962.

The NFL's other record breaker, Jimmy Brown of Cleveland, is the other standout in the weekly individual statistics released by the league today. Brown became the first NFL player to gain more than 10,000 yards by rushing when he made 149 last Sunday against Pittsburgh. He has run 813 yards on 161 carries this year, a five-yard average, and 10,135 in his career.

Johnny Unitas of Baltimore continues as the No. 1 passer with 87 completions on 169 attempts for 51.5 per cent and a 9.16-yard average gain. Johnny Morris and Mike Ditka of Chicago are one-two in pass receiving with 58 catches for Morris and 53 for Ditka.

Dishonest Employees Cost Billion Dollars Each Year

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dishonest employees cost American business an estimated billion dollars a year.

How to cut this is one of the biggest problems and worries confronting business.

Insurance firms and companies specializing in preventing and uncovering employee dishonesty are endeavoring to instruct employers in how to keep workers from dipping their fingers in the till.

Saul D. Astor, president of Management Safeguards, Inc., of New York, which operates nationally, attributes rising employee dishonesty to managerial ineptitude, complacency, bad executive examples, and a failure on the part of top management to adopt preventive security programs rather than emergency security programs.

He says it is insufficient for management simply to call for moral remedies to solve the problem of internal pilferage.

"There have been no moral remedies in the past 300 years," he says, "and there is no reason to expect an imminent remedy at this date."

Indicating that employee dishonesty accounts for 7 per cent of all bankruptcies in the United States, Astor points out that the advertising and marketing methods of American business constantly motivate people to acquire new products, even people who do not have the means to acquire them — "the shortcut to acquisition is undoubtedly theft or fraud."

"The companies which are the most profitable are also the best controlled and the most secure companies," according to Astor, "and they achieve their control and security through good management and preventive methods rather than through emergency security programs and questionable electronic security gimmicks."

A large part of the money and property lost by American business could be saved through tighter control of work procedures, in the opinion of Royal-Globe Insurance Co. of New York.

It states that money and merchandise stolen through inside jobs amounts to twice that taken through burglary, holdup and car theft.

"In a period of rapid business growth, such as we are experiencing today," says Royal-Globe, "many companies concentrate on accommodating high sales volume, expanding plant facilities, and increasing their work force without giving sufficient thought to security and proper supervision of employees."

Kent Making Shamle Of Scoring Race

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Nebraska's Kent McCloughan catches a pass, the odds are 2 to 1 it will be a touchdown. The Husker half-back, the Big Eight 220-yard dash champion in track, is making a shambles of the league scoring race.

McCloughan has scored 62 points in seven games, compared to 30 for second place Lance Rentzel of Oklahoma. At his present pace, he will finish the season with 89 points, most in the league since Oklahoma's Clendon Thomas scored 108 in 1956. The conference record is 157 by Bobby Reynolds of Nebraska in 1950.

His six pass receptions have gone for four touchdowns and 164 yards. Two of the scoring passes were deflected and McCloughan made great catches. A third was a desperation blower, not intended for him, but he got it for the only touchdown against Missouri last week.

Fred Duda's pass which bounced off the helmet of a Minnesota player was grabbed by McCloughan for the winning touchdown in a 26-21 victory. The unbeaten Huskers trailed Colorado 3-0 when Hale Irwin almost got an interception, but McCloughan snatched it and went 53 yards to score.

"I can run okay when there's daylight," he said, "but a lot of other backs are better in a crowd. I've just been lucky."

He's the league's No. 10 rusher with 255 yards and a 4.1 average.

Gale Sayers of Kansas moved his season rushing total to 563 and became the Big Eight's career rushing record holder with a 77-yard scoring run and a 110-yard day against K-State. His total now is 2,605 rushing and in total offense it's 2,708, with a chance at the 3,000-yard circle.

Gary Lane of Missouri leads Glenn Baxter 827-811 in total offense but Baxter is ahead of Lane in passing, 634-527. Lane has played one more game.

Oklahoma State fullback Walt Garrison is No. 2 rusher with 404 yards and Jim Grisham of Oklahoma is third with 397. Then come Lance Rentzel of OU at 358, Frank Solich of Nebraska 322, Ron Oelschlager of Kansas 308 in just four games and Lane 300.

Bob Churchich of Nebraska is a close third in passing at 498 yards.

Rentzel holds a narrow lead in pass reception with 245 yards on 22 catches compared to 233 on 22 catches by Bill Symons of Colorado. K-State's Doug Dusenbury leads Rentzel in punting, 41.5 to 40.3. Iowa State's Tom Vaughn is top man in kickoff returns with 324 yards on 13, a 24.9 average, and is the third best scorer with 25 points. Sayers still leads in punt returns with 120 on 11.

agement to adopt preventive security programs rather than emergency security programs.

He says it is insufficient for management simply to call for moral remedies to solve the problem of internal pilferage.

"There have been no moral remedies in the past 300 years," he says, "and there is no reason to expect an imminent remedy at this date."

Indicating that employee dishonesty accounts for 7 per cent of all bankruptcies in the United States, Astor points out that the advertising and marketing methods of American business constantly motivate people to acquire new products, even people who do not have the means to acquire them — "the shortcut to acquisition is undoubtedly theft or fraud."

"The companies which are the most profitable are also the best controlled and the most secure companies," according to Astor, "and they achieve their control and security through good management and preventive methods rather than through emergency security programs and questionable electronic security gimmicks."

A large part of the money and property lost by American business could be saved through tighter control of work procedures, in the opinion of Royal-Globe Insurance Co. of New York.

It states that money and merchandise stolen through inside jobs amounts to twice that taken through burglary, holdup and car theft.

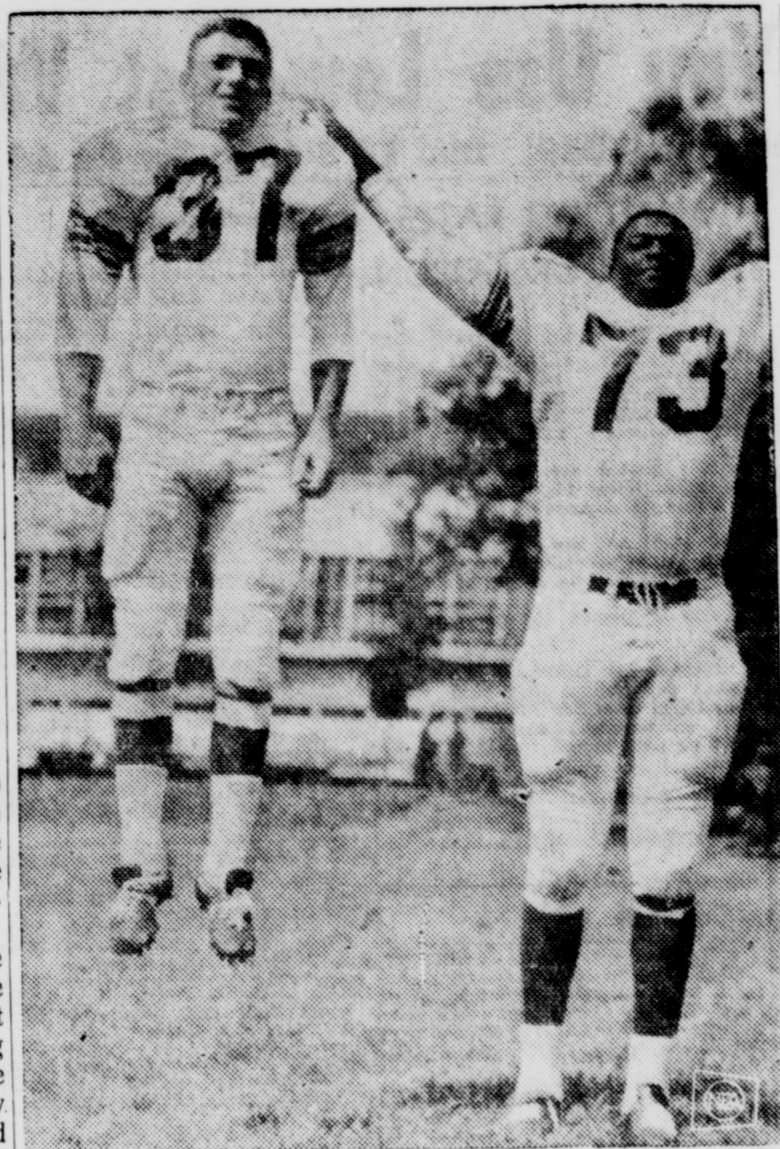

"In a period of rapid business growth, such as we are experiencing today," says Royal-Globe, "many companies concentrate on accommodating high sales volume, expanding plant facilities, and increasing their work force without giving sufficient thought to security and proper supervision of employees."

Bob Hedrick AP Lineman Of The Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bob Hedrick, Purdue end voted the most valuable player in the Boilermakers' victory over Illinois, was named Lineman of The Week today by The Associated Press.

Hedrick caught eight passes, one for a touchdown, in the 26-14 triumph last Saturday that kept Purdue tied with Ohio State for the lead in the Big Ten. It set a single-game Purdue record and earned the junior from South Bend, Ind., the nod in the weekly voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

The 19-year-old, who stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 190 pounds, needs to catch only eight more passes to set a Purdue season record and he may get them against Michigan State on Saturday.

LITTLE GUYS MEAN A LOT—Ernie McMillan, 6-6, 260-pound St. Louis tackle, practices arm exercises at the expense of 5-9, 170-pound cornerback Pat Fischer, one of smallest men in the National Football League. Fischer may be small on paper, but on the field it's different. He was the early NFL leader in pass interceptions this season.

Vote Getters Improving

NEW YORK (AP) — Getting 69.5 per cent of the votes will win you many an election. But that kind of an average in football picking merely proves you have been in Tokyo for five weeks because of the Olympics.

Last week's gridiron gymnastics found a .709 percentage. That brought the season's figures to .695.

Here are this week's vote-getters:

Alabama over Louisiana State—This could be the best team ever produced by Coach Bear Bryant of Alabama, and he has been in the business since World War II. David Ray too versatile.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh—Everyone is raving about the Notre Dame passing attack of John Huarte to Jack Snow but did you know that the Irish defense this season has limited six foes to a total of five touchdowns?

Ohio State over Penn State—Normally the Buckeyes don't concentrate on non-Big Ten foes, but with an unbeaten season in prospect they will grind down the sub-par Nittany Lions.

Arkansas over Rice—The Owl offense has come apart and should be further blunted by the unbeaten Arkansas array.

Oregon State over Indiana—The home field gives the West Coast leaders a narrow edge.

Nebraska over Kansas—Despite the heroics of Kansas' Gale Sayers, the defensive-minded Huskers will extend their winning streak to 15.

Syracuse over Army—Floyd Little will run the Cadets ragged in this one.

Michigan over Illinois—Coach Bump Elliott of Michigan, usually beats brother Pete, coach of Illinois, and there is no indication of a change in the script.

Texas over Baylor—Ernie Koy and the strong Texas defense will prove too much.

Princeton over Harvard—The final Big Three round-robin starts for Princeton's great fullback, Cosmo Iacavazzi.

Purdue over Michigan State—The Boilermaker sophomores have become of age.

Georgia Tech over Tennessee—However, Tech must stop thinking about the Alabama game a week away.

Jerry Rhome Valley's Back Of the Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Missouri Valley Conference back of the week is Tulsa's Jerry Rhome...who else?

Rhomed outdied even his own past feats by hitting an amazing 81.4 per cent of his passes in a 61-14 romp over a good Oklahoma State team. He completed 35 of 43 for 488 yards and four touchdowns, one of the best days ever by a collegiate passer.

Oklahoma State went into the game No. 2 nationally in pass defense but Rhome changed things quickly. He also ran for two touchdowns and threw for a two-point conversion.

He is the national passing and total offense leader and can break almost all the NCAA records worth breaking in both categories, even if he slows down considerably.
